Overview:

Attend this session to understand what's new in DB2 for i. The session will include enhancements delivered to IBM i 7.1 in 4Q/2013 (aka TR7) and enhancements becoming available in June/2014 (aka TR8). This is an opportunity to hear from the person responsible for determining the DB2 for i strategy and feature enhancements. If you have DB2 for i requests, ideas and opinions that you are willing to share, you are encouraged to reach out to me before, during or after this remote presentation.

About the Presenter:

Scott Forstie is the DB2 for i Business Architect, SQL Development team leader and IBM i developerWorks content manager. In addition to his development roles, he is a frequently published author on SQL and database topics (<http://iprodeveloper.com/author/scott-forstie>). He has worked for IBM nearly 25 years, working primarily on IBM i. He can be reached by email or followed on Twitter at @Forstie_IBMi, where he is trying to mix DB2 for i, business and social.

From the President:

Hello Everyone:

We're looking forward to a great presentation in April on what's new with DB2. There have been a lot of recent changes and it is sure to be a very informative meeting. The meeting can be attended onsite at the Bloomfield library or you can join in remotely through GoToMeeting.

We're excited to have registration open for MITEC 2014. The big event will be held on Tuesday June 3rd at the Schoolcraft College Vistatech Center located in Livonia Michigan. The event features over 50 sessions to choose from with an all star line up of presenters including Aaron Bartell, Larry Bolhuis, Larry Farmer, Jesse Gorzinski, Charles Guarino, Doug Herman, Ted Holt, Jackie Jansen, Scott Klement, Pete Massellio, Steve Nasypany, Mike Pavlak, Debbie Saugen, Derrick Smith, Tracy Smith, Robin Tatam, Paul Tuohy, Steve Will and Dean Woodke. We're pleased to have Steve Will kick the day off with the opening session on trends and directions. There is plenty to choose from RPG, CLP, Navigator, iSeries Access, RDi, PHP, Backup and Recovery, System Administration, SQL and much more. Take advantage of early bird discounts and save. It's truly a Power Packed Day of education. For details visit the conference web site www.gomitec.com.

We will also be offering pre-conference workshops on Monday June 2nd. Choose from either a day of RDi with Charles Guarino or a day of PHP with Mike Pavlak. We will also be offering COMMON certification testing Monday afternoon, including Associate and Professional Business Computing and RPG certification.

We will be giving away a registration to MITEC during the April and May user group meetings. Be sure to join in for a chance to receive a free registration.

Happy Spring!

Regards,

Laura
